Annual Program Enhancement Reports (APER)

- Annual reporting and enhancement of qualifications and courses are integral components of the academic quality assurance process aimed at improving students' experiences and learning outcomes.
- The qualification must have effective mechanisms to collect regular, valid and reliable feedback from stakeholders, such as students (e.g. course evaluations, etc), graduates (e.g. Australian Graduate Survey), staff (e.g. peer review and teaching evaluations), and employers of graduates and to ensure the feedback results in qualification and course enhancement.

Course Experience Questionnaire (CEQ)

Employer Satisfaction Survey (ESS)

Graduate Destination Survey (GDS)

Course Experience Questionnaire (CEQ)

The Course Experience Questionnaire (CEQ) is completed by graduates of Australian higher education institutions four months after completion of their courses. The survey provides information about the quality of education provided at Australian institutions. The CEQ asks graduates to what extent they agree with a series of statements about their study experiences.

The CEQ is funded by the Australian Government Department of Education and Training and participating higher education institutions. It is attached to the Graduate Destinations Survey as part

6.2 GDS and CEQ Results from the Australian Graduate Survey

Comment on results from the Course Experience Questionnaire (CEQ) and Graduate Destination Survey (GDS) from the Australian Graduate Survey (AGS) and any implications for the program.

It is really to early to draw any significant results from the GDS and CEQ data. We can see that there was a significant improvement in the data from 2013 to 2014. 2013 was the year in which law courses were rewritten and standardised, delivery methods extended to include iTunesU, podcasts and video conferencing tutorials in all subjects. A skills program was also introduced in 2013. We can see that from the CEQ data Generic skills and Overall Satisfaction are well above university percentages as is GDS full-time employment rates. Good teaching is only slightly better than the university average. This is disappointing and we aim to do far better in Good Teaching than CQU norms.

6.3 Graduate Feedback (From CEQ): Best Aspects/Needs 6

Comment on graduate perceptions on the best aspects of the program and those needing improvement, obtained from text comments provided within the CEQ and any implications for the program. Comments are available from Office of Learning and Teaching please email ags-enquiries@cqu.edu.au

The best aspects of the course may be summarised as follows:

- Flexible learning
- Textbooks
- · Quality staff enthusiastic, responsive and dedicated
- Quality material
- Engaging subjects

APER Promoting Reflections on:

- qualification statistics, including trends and implications
- previous year's recommendations and action taken
- strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threat analysis of the qualification
- engagement strategies and their effectiveness,
- feedback on the qualification from employers, industry, staff and/or students, and
- identified articulations, pathways and relationships with existing and/or proposed CQUniversity VET qualifications and how the qualification may align with the University's various comprehensive curriculum models.

3.2 Comment on above data/statistics (1)

This is a good result, but response rates still refuse to reach 50%. Further efforts will be made during term to encourage students to participate in this survey. Students' attention will be drawn to the positive improvements that have been made in this course due to feedback received in the past.

The statistics have also indicated the ongoing problem for a highly theoretical and qualitative course: the challenge of returning written assignments within a tight time commitment while still providing sufficient feedback for the students. Recent improvements have been made in returning assignments, but extra effort must be made in providing feedback.

Annual course enhancement is conducted once a year in each year that a course is offered.

Reflecting on the following:

- course statistics
- previous year's recommendations and action taken
- self-evaluation, peer feedback, student feedback and any additional feedback, including from Program Committees, Program Reference Committees, industry stakeholders, etc., and any recommended actions to address feedback,
- good practice in learning/teaching/assessment.
- The Course Coordinator also develops recommendations for the following year including communication strategies to inform students of the recommendations, potential impact on resources and change to the synopsis, learning outcomes, graduate attributes and/or assessment items.

Performance enhancement...

Hurdles

- System "bugs"
- Initially, creating a culture of reflection and continuous improvement – not just filling in the form.
- Getting "athletes" to see the value in the data rather than seeing it as something that may impact negatively on them as individuals.
- Complex campus network distribution of staff / isolation

Where to next?

- Creating a culture
- Embedding in the "calendar"
- Reviewing design AIMS
  - Continued improvements to user experience
  - QILT Data
  - Maybe additional sources of data
  - Key information which provide the most value
- Identifying success trend data
- Continuously improving outcomes for students

Knee Reconstruction aka the APER overhaul

- SES benchmarking by study area, trend, visual and tabular content including overall experience satisfaction, five scales and qualitative feedback
- GOS employment and salary outcomes, course experience, graduate attributes and qualitative feedback
- ESS employer based data and feedback

Winning

- In this instance it is not about crossing the line first.
- It is more about continuously running the race and finding something we can do better each time.
